

Scottish Open 2017

The closing date for the Scottish Open at the Normandy Hotel, Renfrew, is fast approaching. All Open Singles entries must be in by Saturday 11th February with the opening competition taking place on Friday 17th February. This will take the traditional form of a Mixed Triples and anyone wishing to enter can still do so up till 7.00pm on the Friday evening.

Saturday's singles will once again be held in two sessions, morning and afternoon, while the doubles can be entered during the day on Saturday, but organisers warn that if you don't enter early enough you may miss out as the top limit is reached.

Both defending champions, Netherland's sensation Danny Noppert and England's Lorraine Winstanley, have entered this year's competition along with many of the BDO stars from all round the World.

Currently both alpha lists of entrants can be accessed on the Scottish website at www.sdadarts.com allowing all players to check that their name is actually entered.

If any player is experiencing difficulty in entering please don't hesitate to contact the Scottish Darts Association for help.
